Shirley Paulson, PhD

Shirley Paulson's exploration and research into the 'Bible and Beyond' began with her Master of Theological Studies work at Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary, which led to her PhD in Religion and Theology from the University of Birmingham (UK).

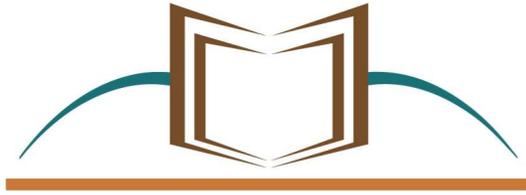

The unique contribution of Shirley's work is the combination of her contemporary ecumenical work with research in early Christian thought and writings. Combining her experience in healing, theological scholarship, and Practical Theology with research in Biblical and extracanonical texts evokes ever-new questions and conversations for scholars, spiritual seekers, and Bible enthusiasts. The foundational text for her research is the Secret Revelation of John.

Shirley has over three decades of experience presenting lectures, classes, and workshops on early Christian texts, plus her Christian Science lectures. Since 2017 she has been the driving force behind Early Christian Texts (earlychristiantexts.com), an organization offering an assortment of online educational programs including a newsletter, articles, blog, podcast, discussion series, and adult learning courses.

Her first book, Illuminating the Secret Revelation of John, was published by Cascade Books in April of 2022.

Presentation Description

Introduction to the Letter of Peter to Philip

This relatively short and little-known text, bundled with the 51 other texts found near Nag Hammadi, Egypt in 1945, is surprisingly relevant today. Written at a time of Roman violence, the message from the “voice” of Jesus offers clear guidance for those who fear for their lives.

In the Letter of Peter to Philip, Jesus instructs his ambassadors (his followers from long ago and now) with six steps that lead to peace, joy, and even healing, in the midst of all the threatening turmoil.

In this presentation and discussion, we will discuss the spiritual and practical meaning of those steps and the leadership role assumed of the ambassadors.

How the Presentations Work

Onsite presentations are composed of a live lecture and follow up discussion taking approximately 90 minutes total.

Online presentations include distribution of a 30-minute prerecorded video presentation which participants can watch at any time, and a scheduled 60-minute interactive Zoom meeting for discussion.

Presentations are offered throughout the year, either at your location or online. You choose the venue, time, and date of your event. Please contact Shirley for availability.
